House Passes the Bill Against Preaching of Anarchy.

President Going to West Point. Gen. Smith Court-martial. Angelina's Business.

W ASHINGTON. June 9.—An interesting discussion of the Isthmian Canal project was made in the Senate today by Mr. Harris of Kansas, a member of the Committee on Inter oceanic Canals, who is also an engineer of recognized ability. His discussion of the technical details of canal construction was listened to with nal construction was listened to with profound attention. He strongly ad-vocated the selection of the Nicaraguan route. He maintained that it was entriely feasible and practicable from an engineering standpoint, and said that some of the difficulties presented by the Panama route were insuperable, notably the construction of the Bohio dam.

During the early part of the session, the Naval Appropriation Bill was considered. All of the committee amendaments were disposed of, except that relating to the construction of the two additional battleships, two cruisers and two sumboats.

The House passed the bill to protect the President, Vice-President, members of the Cabinet and foreign ministers and ambassadors and to suppress the teaching of anarchy by a vote of 175 to 33. A motion to recommit the measure with instructions to strike out certain sections was defeated by 71 to 123.

The remainder of the day was dereated by 71 to 123.

The remainder of the day was devoted to the bill to transfer certain forest reserves from the Interior Department to the Agricultural Department and to authorise the creation in such reserves of game and fish preserves. The President in his annual message recommended such a measure. The minority of the Public Lands Committee offered a Senate substitute for the bill, a measure which eliminated that portion of the bill which transfers the reserves to the Agricultural Department. Messrs. Lacey of lowa, Kleberg of Texas, Perkins of New York and Williams of Missouri spoke in favor of the bill.

Messrs Mondell of Wyoming and Shafiroth of Colorado supported the minority substitute. Mr. Bell of Colorado opposed the bill in toto. No vote was reached.

support of Chairman Grosvenor, but the situation is far from being clear.

The sudden activity of the subsidy advocates has been occasioned by the breaking up of a little band of four Republican members, who, in the Fifty-sixth Congress, stood together against subsidies, and were able to prevent a report on the Hanna-Frye bill. The quartette embraced Stevens of Minnesota, Minor of Wisconsin, Fordney of Michigan and Jones of Washington, Mr. Jones, in announcing his charge of position a few days ago, told his friends that the Pacific Coast, his own State in particular, was hearttold his friends that the Pacific Coast, his own State in particular, was heartily in favor of subsuly legislation, and that, if certain minor amendments suggested by him were accepted by the friends of the bill, ne would feel that he must support it. Mr. Fordney is not quite so ardent an obstructionist as he was in the Fifty-sixth Congress, and it is believed he will ultimately follow Jones. Stevens and Minor stand where they did in the last Congress, but two Republican members will not be enough to block the bills' pathway.

Alderman "Blind Billy" Kent Among Victims-Rapid Spread of Fire.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M. HICAGO, June 9.—Nine men and one woman were killed, and about one woman were killed, and about thirty persons injured in a fire which this afternoon destroyed the sanitarium conducted by the St. Luke's Society at Wabash avenue and Twenty-first street. The society occupied the building which has long been known as the Hotel Woodruff, and for a brief as the Hotel Woodfulf, and for a brief period as the Hotel Lancaster. The greater portion of the patients received in the institution were those seeking cure from the drink habit, and those who were addicted to the use of drugs. When the fire broke out there were on the fifth floor a number of patients are received. when the ire broke out there were on the fifth floor a number of patients suffering from delirium tremens, and some who were deranged by drugs. Some of these were strapped to their beds, and it was found impossible to save them, so rapidly did the fire spread through the building. but Kent had become so crazed that it was almost impossible to do any-thing with him. Wattels was finally compelled to run for his life as the competed to run for his life as the fames were scorching his clothing. He ran to a window off the south side of the building, across which were from bars. Wattels managed to tear two or three of these from their fastenings, and with two other men who had followed him, climed out on the sill.

They were seen by the firemen, who called to them to remain where they were, and they would save them. A ladder was run up and the two men who were with Wattels were taken down. He became crazed with excitement, and not waiting for the return of the firemen, sprang for a net which some men were holding on the sidewalk beneath. He fell partly in it and partly on the sidewalk, and sustained injuries which probably will cause his death.

Kent was left lying on the floor of his room, and evidently died of suf-fectation. His body was badly hurred after death. Three hours after the outbreak of the fire, the body was found on the floor of his room, one leg burned to a crisp, and the head burned off. He was identified by means of his

DREADFUL SCENE.

A scene that wrought to the pitch of madness the great crowd that had gathered around the building, was enacted at a fourth-story window, on the north side. Across this window was a heavy wire screen, and on the outside of the screen were iron bars running parallel to the sili. The space between these bars was too small to allow the passage of even a small boy, and behind them were gathered a crowd of men, whose numbers were found to be between twenty-five and thirty. DREADFUL SCENE.

thirty. Escape in other directions was im-possible for the fire filled all the halls, and was steadily eating its way toward and was steadily eating its way toward the window at which the men were standing. The one chance for life for that crowd of men lay through that screen and barred window. The men closest to the screen tore and tugged at it in a vain effort to tear it from its fastenings, and the men behind its fastenings, and the men behind them fought madly to get close enough to the screen to fasten their fingers in it. So fiercely did the prisoners pull at the screen that from the street below were plainly visible tiny streams of blood that trickled from lacerated fingers and flowed over the window-sill.

in strait-jackets and manacles, and those, not being able to help them-selves or others, were the wildest of all in their frantic efforts to break through the bars.

MADE MEN MAD.

The crowd in the street watching the desperate situation from behind the scene was simply an insane mob. They shouted all sorts of commands and directions at the men, and gave orders to the firemen, who were doing and directions at the men, and gave orders to the firemen, who were doing all that men could do to get through the bars from the outside. As the flames came steadily toward the men the people in the street jumped up and down and screamed in helpless rage. It seemed as though nothing could be done, and that all of the men would die within six inches of free-dom.

Finally the screen came down, but the bas remained, and they were heavy, placed there for the purpose of withstanding all the efforts of insane men. As many as could place their hands on the lower bar took hold. It bent almost double, and six men went to the floor with a crash, holding on to the fron bar which they had torn from its fastenings. So quickly did the men behind them spring to grasp the second bar that those who had torn down the first were badly transorn down the first were badly trampled on before they could rise. Another bar was soon torn away, and the path to safety was opened. The men at the windows fought to keep their places until the firemen could raise ladders, and the men in the rear, some of whom were already being reached by flames, fought to gain the window.

Gen. Miles arrived at 1 o'clock, and was honored with a salute. A luncheon was served in the arsembly-room of the Memorial Hall for the graduates and former cadets of the military academy. The graduates met in the Assembly Hall, and at 3 o'clock marched to Thayer Hall. The other graduates in the order of classes followed. The class of 1862, and all preceding classes were provided with seats on the stage. Other classes were seated together in the body of the hall. The meeting was called to order by Gen. John S. time, of the great disadvantage under which the country labored because of the lack of such education. At the very beginning of the war with Great Britain steps were taken to introduce some sort of military instruction among the new levies, and efforts to this end were continued by Washington and his subordinates until he had, in the regiments of the Continental Line, a fairly well-disciplined regular army. well-disciplined regular army.

Immediately after the war, in the dis-cussions of the question of a peace establishment for the country, great prominence was given to a military academy as an essential part of such establishment. But the condition of the country for the next few years, under the old Articles of Federation, was not favorable to the considera-tion of any such subject. The vital question of the continued existence of the States as a nation and the adoption of an effective Constitution superseded all minor questions. But in 1793, four years after the organization of the government under the present Constiing reached by flames, fought to gain the window.

The first man through was Dr. C. A. Anderson of Chicago. No tadders were in front of the window. and Anderson of a fire escape in froat of the window just west of where he was. He hesitated for an instant and then sprang for the escape, clutching it, and was safe.

But in 1793, four years after the organization of the government under the present Constitution, washington, as President, instituted measures looking to the establishment of a Military Academy. This resulted in the act of Congress of May 9, 1794, which provided for a corps of artillerists and engineers of four companies, each company to have two cadets, etc. Several subsequent acts authorized the appointment of a cademy. But the development and growth of the institution were slow indeed, Nearly everything necessary to its healthy existence was wanting, and many years were spent in numerous efforts, through inadequate legislation and other expedients, to supply manifest deficiencies. At length, in 1812, corps of professors and instructors for the academy, and establishing the institution on a broad and solid basis, so far as could be done by law. But it still remained to impart life and health and strength and vigor. The genius to do this was found in 1817. Then Maj

Maj. Thayer has been not unjustly called the father of the Military Academy. He was even more than that. He took the academy after its youth had well night wasted, and, by appropeen well night wasted, and, by appro-priate discipline, training and culture, developed one of the foremost institu-tions of learning in the world. It is true that West Point has not fallen behind in the advance of the country up to the present time. Yet it is equally true that its essential character-today is the same as that impressed equally true that its essential character today is the same as that impressed upon it by Maj. Thayer three-quarters of a century ago. The scademy has been most fortunate during the long period from the time of Maj. Thayer to the present in having a corps of able, diligent, conscientious professors, instructors and assistants who have loyally supported the superintendent in developing, perfecting and enforcing the system of instruction and discipline. the system of instruction and discipline which has made the institution famous. But I must leave to others the agreeable task of paying just and loving tribute of honor and respect to the memories of these great and good men. whose names are household words among the graduates of the Military Academy, and the lovers of learning throughout the land.

Time will not permit a description here of the circumstances as they existed at West Point before Maj. Thayer assumed command in 1817. The condition has been justly characterized as chaotic. The measures instituted by him were accommand. ized as chaotic. The measures instituted by him were so numericus, so drastic, so minute in detail and so comprehensive as to justify the idea of

WEST POINT SYSTEM.

It would require too much time to explain in detail what constitutes the West Point system, as compared with all others, but the more salient feutures may be briefly stated:

First, and most important of all, is discipline. The military and naval academies alone, of all the educational institutions in this country have the necessary power to enforce the discipline which is requisite to their course of training.

constant exertion and strict observ-ence of regulations on the part of cadets, afforded by the prizes offered to those who win in the competition. to those who win in the competitiou.

This prize is not only a commission in the army (or navy,) but a commission in such corps as the graduate may prefer, if his class rank entities him to the choice. The strife for these cov-such corps as the graduate may refer. If his class rank entities lim is the choice. The strife for these covided prizes is very great.

Third, the published daily record of ach cadet's scholarly performance and he final summing up of these records, in each and every subject, their concollidation, together with the conduct record, at the end of each term, and at the end of the four years' course, so that the Academic Board may decide wisely and justly, not only the relative merits of all the members of a class, but what corps or arm of the service each cadet, is qualified to enter. The object of West Point training is not simply to fit young men for the army, but to justly determine the appropriate place for each in the several corps and arms of the service.

It has been said sometimes that cadets and graduates show signs of everwork. It would be strange, indeed, if, under such incentives, ambitious young men did not go to, the limit of their strength and endurance. But how can this be avoided? Would you take away the incentive and leave to chance or influence the selection of officers for the highest places in the army? Or even, if a young man with least brains than ambition, injures his health in the long-continued effort to graduate at the foot of his class, who can prevent him or deny him the right to make the effort? The law of survival of the fittest seems to be the only rule applicable to such a case. I have known some such in my own experience, but I have never known or heard of one in which the injury appeared to be lasting.

I will mention only two more of the poul was develored to be alsating.

I will mention only two more of the poul was develored to be accounted as advantages are very great, and I show clearly under the searchighth of history to the honor of the army and the graduates was held in Thayer Hall.

peculiar West Point methods; one is the blackboard method of recitation. Its advantages are very great, and I believe are now well understood. I am informed that this method has, of late years, become very general in the schools of the country. The second is EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS.

In this connection, it is pleasing to refer to the fact that West Point has long since ceased to be the only place in this country where a thorough mathematical education can be obtained. The great institutions throughout the country now rival the Military Academy in the thoroughness their instruction in mathematical in the sense of the sense o their instruction in mathematics, pure and applied, to all who desire such instruction. It is even more pleasing to note the vast advance made by the public schools of the country, as evinced by the action of the authorities in proposing to accept the certificates of such schools as sufficient evidence of qualification for admission to the military academy. Not the least, in my opinion, among the honors due our old Alma Mater is the fact that it the from secretary Root that the Week from Secretary Root that the German officers were coming to look over our old Alma Mater is the fact that it was the ploneer in that thorough method of instruction and training which has now become so general throughout the country.

A note of warning here is believed to be called for. The high character aiways sustained by the corps of cadets and by the graduates of the academy, has been due in great measure to the natural characters of the young men appointed cadets. That this has been far above the average follows, as a matter of course, from the fact that the selection has been made by the Congressman himself from his own personal acquaintance with the candidate and his family. The corps of cadets has always been a cryyppe story. the fact that the selection has been made by the Congressman himself from his own personal acquaintance with the candidate and his family. The corps of cadets has always been a real American aristocracy—an aristocracy—of character. If the time ever comes when competitive examinations, or school certificates, are permitted to take the place of established character, serious injury will be done to the corps of cadets and to the army. The honor, as officers and gentlemen, of which cadets have justly been most proud, is cadets have justly been most proud, is very largely in their own keeping. It is greatly to be hoped that the ap-pointing power will do nothing to diminish the purity of this fountain of honor, which comes direct from what is best and purest in the country—the respectable family. Our beloved academy has always set before its students the highest standards of manly character. Veracity, honesty, honor, fidelity and patriotism, no less than scholarly excellence, have been held indispensable on the part EAT lunch at Del Monte.

With exceedingly rare exceptions the roll of graduates is one long roll of honor, of men who, in every walk of life, have been distinguished for meritorious services to the country, and torious services to the country, and especially for honorable conduct among their fellow-men. Very many have gained distinction as military leaders, and some have received the applause of the world as masterly commanders of great armjes. These latter, most noble sons of the academy, during all the vicisitudes of war, whether in victory or in defeat, have maintained toward each other and toward the people of the country that honorable, chivalrous and Christian conduct which most adorns the noble institution where they learned the art of war. Such, briefly and very imperfectly sketched, is what the Military Academy has been and what it has done for the country in the first century of its life.

has been and what it has done for the country in the first century of its life. The beginning of the new century finds the institution in a condition and in hands fully worthy of the past. The great demands of the future are, I doubt not, fully appreciated, and will be met with courage and seal commensurate with the just expectations of the country. Let us all induige the hope and confident expectation that our noble Alma Mater will go steadily forward, deserving higher and higher forward, deserving higher and higher honors for her services to our belove

"It was because of these preparations persistently pursued in the face of obstacles, well nigh insurmountable and often disheartening, that the little army we sent to Santiago de Cuba was able to render so good an account of itself, and justly to claim and receive from the country an acknowledgment of the constancy of purpose and gallantry under hardship that merited and achieved success. To permit a country to drift into war in such a way is a crime."

(NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) OGDEN (Utah) June 9.-Manager Riser of the Utah University Athletic Team came to Ogden tonight with a writ of attachment for the property, effects and baggage of the University of California track team, which was expected to arrive at Ogden at 12:30 o'clock tonight over the Union Pacific. The Californians did not arrive, and Riser will wait over until tomorrow in an endeavor to catch them.

The trouble arose over a contract made by the Californians to give the University team a date at Salt Lake for a field meet. The Utahans advertised the matter thoroughly, and made great preparations for the event, when they received a telegram from the California manager saying that he had decided to stop at Chicago, and must cancel the Utah date. **************************

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.!

PORTLAND (Or.) June 9.—Harry Tracy was arrested in Portiand on the evening of February 6, 1899, after an exciting battle with Detective David Wiener. Tracy, who was wanted for burglary, was walking along the street when Detective Wiener met him. The two walked along the street together, and when they reached the corner of Fourth and Market streets. Tracy, seeing the south-bound Northern Pacific train pulling up Fourth street, said:
"I guess I'll take this train: so long."
"I guess you won't," said the detective, pulling his revolver. Tracy fired two shots at the detective, who returned the fire. Tracy jumped into the engine and pointed his revolver at the head of the engineer, who speedily held up his hands. Tracy ordered him to go ahead at full speed, but the conductor stopped the train. Seeing his plan had been frustrated. Tracy jumped from the engine and started to run. The neighborhood had been thoroughly aroused and after half a dozen shots had been fired at the fugitive, one of which took effect behind his ear, he was lodged in jail. A month afterward, while being taken from jail to the courtroom, he suddenly drew a 'revolver and exchanged several shots with the jailer, but was finally overpowered.

PUTTING LIFE IN FRISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Los Angeles Tem-ple of Shriners, which came here 400 strong, issued a little green journal on the trip. It is like a small newson the trip. It is like a small news-paper, and is styled "Al Malaikah Special Josher." It is full of quibs and jokes on the better-known mem-bers of the Southern Temple. One of them reads: "The golf players on our train are hitting the high balls outer frequently."

Los Angeles made itself heard to-night in the court of the Palace Ho-tel. A great group of the southern Shriners attired in evening dress and red fex. accompanied by their own band, similarly dressed, made music and fun for an admiring assemblage of several hundred people. One of the group climbed a courtyard pillar and flung out a conspicuous white banner bearing freak characters of vaulting horses, bucksaws, trees, fat pigs and lines and curves. A band leader pointed at this as music and the choir sang freak songs with peculiar choruses that roused the audiences to repeated happy applause. Then the Los Angeles crowd, preceded by its band, marched over to the Arab patrol headquarters at Lick House and made merry there for half House and made merry there for half an hour. patch.] Considerable excitement was greated at the Shasta King Mine, the property of the Trinity Copper Company near Kennet, Saturday night and for a time the lynching of a miner was threatened.

Ed Pedler, employed by that company, lives with his wife and four chlidnen in a small house near the mine. Pedler is a drinking man, and when in his cups is troublesome. Saturday evening his eldest daughter, a girl of nine years, ran from her home to Kennet, a distance of seven miles. When she reached Kennet she was nearly exhausted and bleading from several wounds on her head and neck. She said her father had tried to cut her throat, and had threatened to kill the whole family. The wounds on her head and face bore out her statement. In the meantime the miners had heard of the trouble, and had gone to Pedler's house. They found him drunk and abusing his wife. He had a knife in his hand, and had it not been for the timely arrival of the men he possibly would have killed his wife. The miners took him to the hillside, pt a rope around his neck, and threatened to lynch him.

Pedler begged and friends interfered.

He was finally released with the warning that the lynching would take place if the affair happened again.

THRILLING ESCAPE.

CAPT. JACK WILLIAMS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TACOMA (Wash.) June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Details were received today of the thrilling escape from death of Capt. Jack Williams, who three weeks ago opened the last Yukon jams with dynamite at Five Fingers Rapids.

Williams was detailed.

Jams with dynamite at Five Fingers Rapids.

Williams was detailed by the White Pass Railroad to show the Canadian government employés where to find the rocks in the Five Fingers most needed to be removed. He was at the rapids on this errand when the jam became so great as to absolutely bar the Yukon's flow. The water spread up the stream, and was threatening to overflow the banks. Having placed dynamite in the center of the mass, Williams superintended the firing of the shot. With unexpected suddenness the great mass of blocked matter was lifted out of place.

Frank Dominguez, who left Los Angeles two years ago last April to become the secretary of the Philippine Commission, was conspicuous on the streets yesterday, clad in a white pongee suit, like those worn in Manila, and with his hands full of presents for his friends. He has fared well in America's largest Oriental city, and claims a law receivement. claims a law practice second to none in the archipelago. He will remain in the United States two or three months on pleasure and business, and will then return to Manila. On his arrival in San Francisco last week, he was interviewed for The Times, and among other things he denounced the artis-other things he denounced the agitation of the "water-cure" question as rot.

In discussing conditions in the islands yesterday he spoke hopefully of the prospects of prosperity under the influence of American methods and enterprise, and pald a tribute to the civil and military governments, that have made such progress possible. Speaking of his own career, he said: "After more than a year's service as secretary of the commission, I became convinced that there was a great opening for the legal profession, and accordingly, A. A. Montana, who was at that time clerk of the Supreme Court in Manila, and myself, formed a law partnership. Our acquaintance with most of the prominent people in and around Manila, and our ability to speak the Spanish language, assured our success from the start. We secured the business of many wealthy persons, whose estates had to be settled, and were retained as attorneys in two or three cases where the titles to vast tracts of land were in dispute. Being successful in these, other business came in so fast that we could hardly attend to it. Opportunities, seemed unlimited, more so in the law perhaps than any other profession, and it is still the case that the field is most inviting.

"The civil and military governments are working in perfect harmony, and despite assertions made in this country to the contrary, there is absolutely no friction between them. Not even a suggestion of such a condition is ever heard in Manila, and we read with considerable amusement some of the reports to that effect in American inspers. Gen. Chaffee and Gov. Taft are two very able men, with the interests of the Filipinos at heart, and in pacifying the natives and bringing them into sympathy with American institutions and ideas, they have worked wonders.

"Manila is virtually an American city, for the main topic of discussion among the people is business. They have become imbued with the spirit of progress and seem to have caught the American secret of getting ahead. There are many detractors among the Filipinos, of course, but the better class are learning swiftly and always manifest an interest in the ingenious methods that Americans are introducing.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS. REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—SENATE—Soon after the Senate convened today a report was made from the Committee on Indian Affairs on the investigation made by that committee of the conduct of W. A. Jones, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, with respect to the leasing of certain Indian lands at Standing Bock reservation in South Dakota. The committee reported that there were no foundations for the charges made, and that the conduct of Mr. Jones was entirely unselfish. The report was agreed to.

Mr. Simmons of North Carolina then addressed the Senate in support of the bill for the establishment of a forest reserve in the Southern Appalachian Mountains. He said the establishment of ten forest reserves in the West was made from the public domain, while cash would have to be paid for the proposed reserve. He did not believe, however, that there was any difference between appropriating cash from the treasury and appropriating property of the government.

between appropriating casi treasury and appropriating ser, and it was advocated as a national proposition.

At the conclusion of Mr. Simmons's speech consideration was begun of the Naval Appropriation Bill. The bill, as reported to the Senate, carries appropriations aggregating 378,166,833. During the reading of the bill, a committee amendment was offered by Mr. Hale appropriating 357,300 for the construction of a building at the Charleston, S. C., navy yard.

At 2 o'clock the unfinished business was laid aside, and the reading of the Naval Bill was continued. All of the committee amendments were agreed to except that providing for the construction of the first-class battleships, two first-class armored cruisers and two gunboats, which went over at the request of Mr. Hale.

Another amendment offered by the committee provided for the appropriation of $185,000 for the construction of a building at the New York navy yard. It was agreed to,

SOME OF THE DIFFICULTIES. WASHINGTON, June 9.—Mr. Harris went into minute details of the Panama proposition, his point being to show that the valuation of the property of the Panama canal, both as to the canal and the railroad property, was not only excessive, but that much of it being useless for other purposes, would have to be replaced. He referred to the "legal and diplomatic difficulties which surround the Panama Canal Company on all sides," and declared that they were absolutely insuperable.

Mr. Tillman inquired how the lands necessary for the Nicaragua route were to be obtained, if they were owned by private individuals.

Again Mr. Tillman interrupted to express his apprehension that speculators had obtained for would obtain title to lands that would be necessary to the United States if the Nicaragua route were selected. He was afraid these claims would spring up in the pathway of the United States, "with hands outstretched toward the treasury, with the demand to stand and deliver."

Mr. Harris replied that, in view of the diplomatic arrangements between the United States and Nicaragua, no such apprehension as that suggested was warranted although, in a project of this kind and this magnitude it was impossible, perhaps. to guard absolutely against frauds of the kind suggested.

Mr. Harris expressed great far that

The roll was called, and the motion was lost by 71 to 125.

The vote was then taken upon the Postoffice Bill, Mr. Lanham of Texas demanding the yeas and nays. The bill was passed by 175 to 38.

The thirty-eight negative votes were: Representatives Adamson, Bartlett, Brantley, Brundige, Burleson, Chandler, Cooper of Texas, Creamer, De Armond, Dinsmore, Finley, Fox, Glenn, Henry of Mississppi, Hooker, Howard Johnson, Jones of Virginia, Claude Kitchin, W. The resolution was adopted without division.

The House then, under the order made last week, proceeded with the consideration of the bill to "transfer certain forest reserves to the control of the Department of Agriculture, and to authorize game and fish preserves in forest reserves."

Mr. Lacey of Iowa, in charge of the bill, explained the growing interest in forest reserves as a means of conserving the water supply and for the protection of game. The bill provides that all forest reserves heretofore set apart should be transferred until the boundaries shal

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Mr. Shafroth of Colorado, in opposing the bill, declared that the Forestry Bureau of the Agricultural Department, while performing valuable scientific work in forestry, had no practical knowledge or experience in the management of forest reserves, and he argued that it would be a great mistake to make the proposed transfer.

Mr. Bell of Colorado also opposed the bill. He said that thousands of homesteaders had taken up land adjoining the reserves because they could secure free grazing for their cattle and horses. He predicted that the great White River reserve of 1,000,000 acres would be designated as a game preserve if his bill passed. The minute that was done, he said, the value of the adjoining ranches would be decreased 75 per cent. because the opportunities for free grazing on the reserve would be at an end.

Mr. Kleberg of Texas and Mr. Perkins of New York, favored the passage of the bill. The latter said that the opposition to the bill came mainly from sheep and cattle men who wanted to use the reserves which might be converted into game preserves for grazing purposes.

COURT-MARTIAL OF SMITH.

RECORDS REACH WASHINGTON.

IBY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.I

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The records of the courtmartial proceedings in the case of Gen. Smith, who was tried in the Philippines for alleged cruelty in the prosecution of the campaign in Sa-mar, reached the War Department today. The papers were placed directly in the hands of Secretary Root, without having gone through the usual channels.

The Secretary will take the case to the White House for the President's consideration, and meanwhile no statement in regard to it is available at the War Department.

ment of it at this session, but decided to have a programme adopted for the next session, according to which the bill will be taken up in the House December 4. Much opposition developed to this programme, however, from those who regarded the measure as embodying an extensive plan of financial change.

"PONTOON BRIDGE" IDEA. CUBAN RELIEF COMPROMISE. (BY DIRECT.WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

IBY DIRECT.WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, June 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The tentative proposition for a compromise on the Cuban relief proposal is: Twenty per cent. rebate on all Cuban products entering the United States for a period of two years, or until this government may negotiate a commercial treaty providing for a reciprocal reduction of tariffs. This is termed the "pontoon bridge" proposition in some quarters, but it has the merit of being practical, as it meets the approval of more than a majority of Republicans. Even Mr. Spooner, who is an out-and-out reciprocity advocate, favors it, because it gives to vocate, favors it, because it gives to the Senate the right to ratify the reci-procity treaty, which, he claims, is in the province of the Senate.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Two Transports for Sale.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Secretary of War has directed the sale at auction of the Grant and Sedgewick, they being needed no longer for the transport service. The Grant is at San Francisco and the Sedgewick at New York. It was reported to the War Department that it would cost about $450,000 to put the Grant in fi.st-class condition.

Pheasants for President, Pheasants for President, WASHINGTON, June 9.—Representative Tongue, at the request of constituents at Albany, Or., and elsewhere, today presented to the President three mounted specimens of the Mongolian pheasant, which is found in large numbers in Oregon. He coupled the presentation with an invitation to the President to visit Oregon and hunt
this bird.

Liberty Bell Arrives.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Liberty Bell arrived here today en route to Philadelphia from the Charleston Exposition, where it has been on exhibition. The arrival of the bell was marked with brief exercises, and thusands of people passed before the carduring the day and viewed the bell.

BANK TRUST

Big Combination Now Under Way.

Is to Be Extended to Every State.

Scheme is Outcome of Branch Banking Movement and is Well Backed.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, June 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The North American Trust Company of New York is promoting a gigantic combination of national banks of the country, which is to include one national bank in each financial center. The combination will be known as the American Bankers' Corporation, which has been chartered quietly under the general corporation act of New Jersey, with a capital of $5,000.000. The chery general corporation act of New Jersey, with a capital of $5,000,000. The charter provides for a surplus of $45,000,000. The scheme is the outcome of the branch banking movement. According to a confidential letter from the trust company to the several financiers with whom it is negotiating the aim will be to own in each State the controlling interest in at least one good bank, which will have sufficient surplus to permit of the purchase of several local organizations.

The ownership of these institutions will be sufficient guarantee to the depositing public without necessitating large and vexatious local capital and surplus liabilities, the idea being that the smaller the capitalization in order. the smaller the capitalization in proportion to deposits obtainable the larger the profits. The capital stock will be invested in United States and State honds. The letter is signed by S. D. Scudder, No. 135 Broadway.

IBT THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.1

CHICAGO, June 9.—A circular letter dated New York, June 5, has been issued on the letter heads of the North American Trust Company and signed by S. C. Sudder, New York, giving the details of the plans for combining National banks in all State capitals and financial centers under one ownership of one bank each center. At the top of the circular, which is marked "confidential," and which was sent to each banker with whom the company is negotiating, is the following:

"American Bankers Corporation, capital 5,000,000, chupius 345,000,000, chartered under the laws of New Jersey general corporation act. Fifty thousand shares, par value $100, at $1000 per share. The circular says:
"Recently the banking act has been amended to permit of expansion by the establishment of small banks all over the country. So that, barring the question of taxation, there would seem to be at first thought, little to prevent the organization of an immense National bank with this very purpose in view, providing it was established with large enough surplus to acquire a sufficient number of banks throughout the country.

enough surpus to acquire a sumcient number of banks throughout the country.

"However, aside from the question of taxation there are serious obstacles to the ownership of such banks under the national banking law. A safer and more profitable plan would be the formation of a corporation which could purchase and control a number of national banks and also State banks and trust companies wherever it seemed profitable to do so.

"To this end such an institution has been chartered under the general corporation act of New Jersey. The only taxes payable will be the annual one-tenth of 1 per cent. on its capital of $5,000.000.

He was a Civil War veteran and janitor of the Grand Army Hall in the Arcade building.

The fire started in the Arcade building on Broadway and destroyed that building, together with the Shackleford and the Theater Saratoga, located in the Citizens' National Bank building. That portion of the latter building occupied by the bank was soaked by water. The contents of the safe and deposit vaults remain intact.

Fortunately there was no wind. Otherwise the fire, which was in the heart of the city and not far from several of the largest hotels, might have developed into a great confiagration. By hard work the firemen succeeded in checking the flames, and at 1:35 a.m. the fire was pronounced under control. The burned buildings were occupied by offices and stores, among them being the postoffice the Daily Saratogan, the Western Union Teigraph Company, Municipal Telegraph and Stock Company, Saratoga County Treasurer's office and Theater Saratoga.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY,

Coke Dandruff Cure and Hair Tonic,

Is Rapidly Achieving Marvelous Cures of All Those Around Los Angeles Who have Scalp Troubles, Dan-druff or Failing Hair. The Public Astonished at the Extraordinary Results of this Re-markable Preparation. The results obtained by Coke Dand-ruff Cure in this city have been very successful. No remedy, tonic or preparation for the hair and scalp has ever yet approximated the curative qualities of The A. R. Bremer Co.'s wonderful Coke Dandruff Cure.

These assertions are not made in a boastful manner, as their truth can be verified by scores who have good reason to vouch for their correctness. Coke Dandruff Cure has proved to be a blessing in many a family in this city, and you may already have ascer-tained this fact from your next door neighbor if you do not know it from your own experience.

Coke Dandruff Cure and Hair Tonic is guaranteed to be a positive cure for itching scalp, falling hair, dandruff and eczema. HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES pays to its skilled workmen wages that aver age from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from $4 to $5.50 per work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly for labor than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this account between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,007,020.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, now average more than $175,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. The Times has a more skillful, reliable and satisfactory force of workmen than any rival newspaper establishment; and not for years has it had any trouble with its workm well satisfied and prosperous. The Times controls its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked ous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that of all local rivals been for a number of years success fully operated in Switzerland, and in New Zealand, and has more recently been introduced in some American communities. It is provided for in the new charter of San Francisco, and the recent election in Oregon the initiative and referendum amend majority-about ten to one.

The idea of this system is simply the placing of government more di rectly in the hands of the people Theoretically, ours is a government "of the people, for the people and by the people." but in practice there has tees, so that, in reality, the "plain people," who constitute the mass of the votors, find that they have been drifting farther away from the position which they are supposed to occupy, as the framers and indorsers of the laws under which they live. To some extent, this condition of fairs is due to indifference on the part of the people themselves, but not entirely, for there are always at work ambitious and unscruptulous men, who are willing and anxious to selse the reins of government, and to handle the team of state so as to suit their own selfash ends.

She spoke in praise of the work of the curators, and in retiring from office thanked the club and Mrs. Lewis for her pleasant period of service.

Mrs. E. T. Pettigrew, in laying down her office of first vice-president of the club, paid an especial tribute to Mrs. W. T. Lewis, which the club applauded warmly. Mrs. Lewis, in turn, spoke in special praise of the faithful service of Miss Henderson, whose name was likewise received with applause.

Mrs. Lewis asked the club members to consider, during the vacation, plans for acquiring a clubhouse of its own. She said property was increasing in value and the desirable lots were being rapidly brought up, so that it behooved the club to move as soon as possible in the matter.

THE MILWAUKEE CASE. Public Administrator Kellogg has been informed that the Michael Hill, who disappeared from Milwaukee years who disappeared from Milwaukee years ago, and who is supposed to have been the man who left the fortune, had a mashed thumb, the injury being such that an examination of the body would prove identity. For this reason it has been suggested that the body be exhumed, and before the case is settled this may be done. Mr. Kellogg has consulted several physicians, who have told him that the body would show the marks of a mashed thumb if the bone had ever been injured, and if the body were to be exhumed this could be as well proven weeks hence as now. It has, therefore, been decided not to exhume the body now, but to wait for further evidence.

He will claim that this law is discriminating and unconstitutional. Mr. Kelloog said yesterday that inasmuch as a great deal has been published about the law requiring him to make a report every six months, he desired to say that a report as to this case will be incorporated in his semi-annual report, which is due June 30. He says that the money in bank was found only six days ago, and he has deposited it as a ispecial deposit pending the repearation of his special report on the Hillicase.

El Verde Grape Juice

Grape juice must first of all be pure—the El Verde is absolutely pure. Next it must be made of grapes that will give it a fine flavor—the El Verde is made from rich, ripe grapes pressed right in the vineyard. The flavor is fine and natural. No preservatives, no sweetening in the El Verde—else it would not be pure. Put up by Louise Cary Smith, who personally attends to everything. It could not be finer or purer. It is a perfect article every one would delight to use. A delightful, refreshing summer beverage. Single pints, 30c; dozen pints, $3.25.

TRAINING THE LUNGS.

SPORTS AND EXERCISES THAT ARE MOST USEFUL IN INCREASING CHEST CAPACITY-RESULTS FROM SPRINTING. BY JAY W. S AVER, M.D.

(Instructor in Yale University Gymnasium.)

The blood is the great purveying agency and at the same time the great scavenger of the human body, and the success of its work depends upon the facilities it has for gathering oxygen in the lungs and for unloading through the lungs carbonic acid case.

oxygen in the lungs and for unloading through the lungs carbonic acid gas. The condition of the blood and thus of the health of the body is therefore dependent upon that of the lungs.

The air that is breathed in contains essentially twenty-one parts of oxygen mixed with seventy-nine parts of oxygen mixed with seventy-nine parts of initrogen. During its residence in the lungs before being expelled by expiration it loses 5 per cent. of its oxygen by volume and gains 4½ per cent. of carbonic acid gas. It is also warmed to nearly the temperature of the body, it is saturated with moisture and there is to be found a minute quantity of nitrogenous waste in it that is highly poisonous in character.

NEED FOR PURE AIR.

As a human being cannot exist per-respiratory act will be valuable in securing a higher development of it. Running may be mentioned as an exercise that calls for increased breathing, where both the frequency and the depth of the act are increased, while diving and swimming under water might be considered an exercise that would tend to increase the size of the pulmonary tissues, as sufficient air must be carried to maintain the proper gaseous interchange for a somewhat prolonged period. It will be obvious to everybody that some forms of running may tend strongly to develop the size of the lungs without specially developing the muscles that would be developed in rapid respiration, as by sprinting, where the chest is allied to its utmost capacity and the person breathes only in frequently during a race of 100 yards. I have noted in my examinations of Yale men that sprint runners increase in lung capacity, as measured by a wet spirometer, more than almost any other class of athletes. It may be stated here that the test of lung capacity by the spirometer is a much more accurate vary of estimating respiratory ability than by taking girth of chest, as the latter may be greatly modified by the contraction of the vast series of muscles that cover the upper half of the chest.

ALD OR RETARD DEVELOPMENT.

NEED FOR PURE AIR.

As a human being cannot exist permanently in an atmosphere contain ng over one-tenth of 1 per cent, of carbonic acid gas, it is obvious that the air driven out in expiration must be extensively diluted before it can be breathed again without doing a serious harm to the organism. The natural air is found to contain about four parts in ten thousand of carbonic acid gas. So it is obvious that to approach the purity of outdoor air the ventilation of a room occupied by many people would require an enormous inflow of pure air, and for houses a standard has been set of at least 2000 feet of pure sate for a larger volume at each res-piration, but when we consider that in-spiration at least is accomplished by muscular effort throws increased waste into the blood, we will see that it can in no true sense take the place of deep breathing. How, then, can the chest be made large and flexible, so that the lung area may be large and the interchange of air abundant and free? To answer this question properly is the problem of those interested in physical training. SWIMMING AND SPRINTING.

SWIMMING AND SPRINTING.

As a foundation for all theoretical and practical consideration of the problem we must bear in mind the concise apothegm of Marey, "Function makes structure." To put this into more homely terms we may say that to make an organ develop we must require it to do something and must make the requirement constantly approach the limit of its possibility in meeting the demand. As a practical application of this we must believe that application of this we must believe that those natural and fundamental exercises that of themselves stimulate the air per hour for each member of the family. The ordinary person in breathing uses about forty cubic inches of air, and he breathes from sixteen to eighteen times per minute, so that he has saturated in an hour-40,000 cubic inches of air with carbonic acid gas to the extent of 4½ per cent.

It is popularly believed that the b'ood going from the lungs and distribute literature of the body by the arteries is free from this noxious gas, but such is not the case. It still contains 40 per cent, according to the amount of oxidation going on in the cells. It is evident, therefore, that an increused lung area for the outpouring of this waste gas would enable the blood to return to the cells in a much cleaner condition so far as waste products are concerned.

TO EXPAND THE LUNGS.

He should take at least ten minutes exercise morning and night with such free Swedish movements, or other exercises as would secure the carriage and development of the muscles indicated above, and he should practice breathing exercises, preferably by practicing lessons in voice training for speech or music, so that his respiratory movements should be controlled and ample for every possible need of the body.

ample for every possible need of the body.

He should avoid all narcotics and stimulants, smoking being especially hostile to lung development.

In this way I would expect to have alm equipped for the work of life with a physical mechanism that would represent staminia or constitutional vigor; that would bear up long and we'l in the work of life, and that would resist successfully the encroachments of disease. In such a person old age would have to be counted in years and not in the aches and pains that make long life a burden instead of a joy.

AN EXCEPTIONAL RECORD. AN EXCEPTIONAL RECORD.

The question may arise as to what constitutes a fair lung capacity, and what is the limit that has been reached in this test. In my own experience, covering an examination of over 12,000 men, the average capacity of lungs is 236 cubic inches, while the largest record was 426 cubic inches.

I submit a front and side view of the chest of the person who made this rec-ord, as it will be of interest to all perord, as it will be of interest to all persons who are striving for self-improvement in this direction. The muscular development is good, the chest is large and full at the base and very deep when expanded. This person has never been sick, except from some symotic diseases of childhood. His exercise has been all forms of outdoor sports, and he is an excellent swimmer.

JAY W. SEAVER.

Conrades, we were not present when its foundations were laid. We may have had no part in its construction and ornamentation. We may not have chiseled or polished a stone. We may not have lent a hand in raising a column, or placing therein its capital. We may not have carved a frieze, frescoed a ceiling, or decorated a panel. We may not even have stretched a line or laid a square, yet we did have a part in its defense; we defended its sates from the ruthless hand of the destroyer. We held back the brave, rash, desperate men who would have invaded its courts and despolled its altars. Liberty was not erased from its gates, nor slavery inscribed thereon. He is Bound for the Mountains to Hunt for the Lost Ten Tribes of Israel, With His Rickety Chariot and Scripture Texts.

The wagon was a wonder, but its owner was very much more of the nine days kind. His temporal name, he says, is George Landon; his real and abiding cognomen hasn't been given him yet, but when the time comes it will be, by the celestial powers.

The rig and its owner were going down Main street yesterday afternoon, in the last stage of a hunt for the promised land. The man appears to be one of the harmless species of lunatics, one of the harmiess species of lunatics, gone daft over religion. He believes that the lost-ten tribes of Israel are to be found somewhere in the mountains of Northern Mexico, in a sort of promised land reserved for them ever since they vanished from Babylon, a time said to be beyond the recollection of even the oldest inhabitant. Just how all right. When Mr. Landon was in the flesh When Mr. Landon was in the flesh he was a farmer in southern Nevada, and received the divine message in a vision, to go out and get him to the place prepared for the faithful; and he says he is constantly guided by the same nightly presence which first put him on the track of his great quest. It is to be hoped that he will not have as hard time in finding the realization of his revelation as did Sir Galahad and others of his contemporaries. Mr. Landon says he is now compietely in the spirit, a statement to be doubted were it not on unquestionable authority, as persons who get filled with the spirit around here hardly ever go in for religion and that sort of thing.

According to his idea the grotesque carryall, which is his traveling home, is a perfect representation of the old Ark of the Covenant. To be sure, it lacks the golden cherubim and the plates of silver and the precious stones adorning the top, but it would hardly be age the golden cherubim and the plates of silver and the precious stones adorning the top, but it would hardly be asfe for a lonely, unarmed man to haul such a wheeled jewel casket as that around these wild and woolly parts; and then, fancy can always supply the deficiency in such a case as this, and any dumb brute without fancy enough for that is incompetent to appreciate such a glorious idea, anyway. About it he has scrawled passages from nearly all the religious books of the world; the glaring inconsistencies of varying faiths do not seem apparent to his mind. The outfit is only the plainest, most rickety sort of camper's wagon, eccentrically decorated with strange devices and mottos, but to his mind it is a creation to compare only with the stratiles.

DYSPEPSIA Cuba's Delicious Vuelta Gobacco

Is Now Successfully Grown in the U.S. In Three States Touching Southern Atlantic and Gulf Waters.

When agriculture was prostrated in Cuba, Bondy & Lederer of New York started experiments in transplanting young sprouts taken from the Cuban Vuelta Abajos district. Portions of Florida, Louisiana and Texas have long been known to present the conditions with the Vuelta Cuban district which is so near those points, The young plants thrived and produced a tobacco exactly the same as grown a few miles across those waters. This leaf was found wholly different from the seed growths of Havana tobacco grown in this country for many years.

of land elevation, soil, sea mists and action of the sun, identical

After these growths were increased from resprouting and expansive planting until a crop of large proportions was reached the first cutting was made and stored for curing. After three years of natural curing its ripe, delicious flavor was found perfect for use in highest priced goods. But the saving of heavy duty and the continually increased supply of this tobacco at last prompted Bondy & Lederer to put this same stock into a 5-cent cigar; the old brand of the house known as the Tom Keene was selected for its benefit This is why you find the exquisite flavor in the Tom Keene never before known in a 5-cent cigar in this country. Try it, it will be plainly apparent to you.

The Native Sons of Los Angeles will have a banquet at the Arcadia Hotel, Santa Monica, Saturday night. Did You Get One?

Boys' Trial Set.

Ben McAllister and Tommy Baldi-nette, two boys of 13 years, who are charged with stealing letters at San Jacinto recently, had their trial set for June 18 in the United States District Court yesterday.

An aged man who gave the name of Herbert was found dead in bed at a cheap lodging-house on East First street near Wilmington yesterday morning. He had entered the house intoxicated and it is supposed that his death was due to alcholism.

W.C.T.U. Federation.

The Federation of the Los Angeles Woman's Christian Temperance Unions will meet in Vernor Congregational Church on East Vernon avenue Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. Among the features on the programme are addresses by Dr. E. S. Chapman on "The Saloon and Womanhood," and by Mrs. H. P. Anderson on "The Gospel of a New Motherhood." There will be both morning and afternoon sessions.

The Call Board.

The Call Board.

The Los Angeles Produce Exchange put the call board in operation yesterday morning. The business done may be found under the head of the market report. After the session a resolution was passed instructing the secretary to invite wholesale grain merchants, the millers and wholesale hay dealers to become members of the exchange. The question of admitting brokers was deferred to a later date.

Methodist Ministers,
In his talk to the Methodist ministers yesterday, Rev. T. C. Miller, field secretary of the University of Southern California, called attention to the fact that the second $100,000 endowment for the university lacked but $4000 of being complete, and warned them against becoming apathetic. As is well known, some of the subscriptions to this fund are provisional, and cannot be realized until the whole sum is raised. The ministers also continued the committee on the Vienna Buffet investigation, and decided to go in a body before the Folice Commission to lend the influence of their presence to the committee. Rev. G. A. Hough and Rev. Dr. Goodwin were added to the committee. Catholic Knights Meet. Catholic Knights Meet.

Los Angeles Council, No. 521, Knights of Columbus, held an interesting session last night in Foresters Temple, First and Spring streets. Twenty-four members were initiated into the mysteries of the third degree, the ceremonies being witnessed by several hundred people. The guests of honor included P. L. McArdle of Chicago, State Deputy Supreme Knight of Illinois; J. H. Reddin of Denver, Territorial Department Supreme Knight of Colorado; W. Carroll Matlack, Past State Deputy Supreme Knight of New Jersey, and others of less prominence. The eastern visitors are on a tour of the Coast and will institute councils at San Francisco, Portland and Seattle. A banquet at a downtown restaurant concluded the council meeting.

By The New ASSOCIATED PIESS—A.M.]
ROME, June 9.—[By Atlantic Cabie.] The Pope was present at the consistory held this morning. He was borne to the Sistine Chapel in the Sediagestiatria, surrounded by cardinals, and formally bestowed red hats on Mgr. Martinelli, formerly Papel delegate to the United States: Archbishop Skrbenski of Prague, and Prince Bishop Von Priczyne of Crucow.
The Pontiff also appointed several bishops, including the Very Rev. William J. Kenny, vicar-general of Jacksonville. Fla., in succession to the late Bishop Augustine Verot, and Very Rev. Philip J. Marigan, vice-rector of the Catholic University at Washington, bishop of Sloux City, Iowa. Subsequently, at the secret consistory, the Pontiff delivered a short elocution.
Judge Taft, Governor of the Philippine Islands, and the Americans with him, were invited to witness the ceremony.

TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1902. TRACKS TORN UP BY CITY'S GANG.

> Exciting Contest for Possession of Compton Avenue—Pacific Electric Company Tries Grab Game.

With a rush and a vim, forty city laborers last night undid the work of 450 men in the employ of the Pacific Electric Raitway Company, who had been engaged form 7 a.m. until nearly 3 p.m. in laying a double track street railway line on Compton avenue, from Slauson avenue north.

This morning the wrecked tracks are piled in great lines along the edge of the street, and, but for the torn-up surface, the work of the street, and, but for the torn-up surface, the work of the street railway company is entirely obliterated, and the seven hours' labor of 450 men apparently has come to naught.

450 graders' and tracklayers, under numerous foremen, were engaged in leveling the street to the grade established by the company's engineers; ties were placed in position, and the work of track laying progressed without himman.

As soon as Capt. Hensley received McClure's ultimatum he returned to police headquarters, called into service twenty-five officers under Sergt. Morton car for the point where the large gang was at work.

Standing in line at the corner of Second and Springs streets, nwaiting company is entirely obliterated, and the seven hours' jabor of 450 men apparently has come to naught.

Last night's operations were the culmination of a day of excitement, in which the electric line attempted to lay its tracks in a street on which the city claims it has no rights. It was only when a large squad of policemen appeared on the scene sarly in the afternoon that the men in charge of the track building would cease their operations, and for the purpose of bringing the matter into the courts, sixteen men were placed under arrest, including simpson McClure, roadmaster of the electric railway company.

The whole matter is a revival of the hotly-contested "freight-carrying" franchise over which there was such a lively fight in the Council, and which finally was vetoed by Mayor Snyder.

The Huntington company, which paid 3152,000 into the City Trêasury for the franchise, claims supreme rights, which are disavowed by the city because of the Mayor's veto, and the matter is now in the Federal Court for adjudication. United States Judge Wellborn is expected to requer a decision within a short time.

Under the terms of the franchise, which was granted by the Council short time.

Under the terms of the franchise, which was granted by the Council February 11, the electric railway company was compelled to begin work within four months. The limitation expires Wednesday, and the officers of the company say that yesterday's operations were prosecuted simply for the protection of their alleged ights, and not with any intention of steeling a march on the city.

TEARING UP TRACKS.

Acting under advice of City Attorney Mathews, Street Superintendent Hugh J. McGuire took steps late yesterday afternoon to remove the railway tracks from Compton avenue. "In my opinion," said the City Attorney in a written communication, "it is your duty, as Superintendent of Streets, to remove from Compton avenue, in this city, all railway ties and rails and other obstructions this day placed thereon, and to restore said avenue to a condition fit for public travel."

As soon as possible, Superintendent McGuire recruited a force of forty laborers, and at 5 o'clock in the evening they began the work of tearing up the tracks, which had been laid in such haste. McGuire and Chief Outside Deputy Sellers directed the operations and alded in the manual labor, and Police Capt. Hensiey and several policemen were there to see that no hindrance was offered by the railway company. Assistant City Attorney Goudge also was on the ground. The work of destruction progressed rapidly, no interference being encountered, and before midnight a great portion of the newly-laid tracks had been thrown to one side of the roadway. One of the tracks had been antirely TEARING UP TRACKS.

As soon as Capt. Hensley received McClure's ultimatum he returned to police headquarters, called into service twenty-five officers under Sergt. Morton, and at 2 o'clock the bluecoats took a Vernon car for the point where the large gang was at work.

Standing in line at the corner of Second and Springs streets, awaiting the arrival of their car, the officers attracted much attention, and many passers-by thought a riot was in progress, and that blood would be shed. The effect of the situation was heightened by the fact that each officer carried a club, and apparently was equipped for a sanguinary encounter. As the car sped down Central avenue with its load of policemen, the residents of the rural districts near Vernon turned in open-eyed wonder, dropped their plows and hoes, and watched the heavily-inden trolley on its way to the terminus. A humorous feature of the situation was that the officers were traveling deadhead on one of Mr. Huntington's cars, for the purpose of putting a stop to work that had been ordered by the man who was furnishing the free transportation.

Arriving at Slauson avenue, the officers marched east over the Santa Fetracks to Compton avenue, nearly half a mile distant. At that point a large crowd of citizens was gathered, and, strung along for nearly half a mile north of Compton avenue, 450 laborers were engaged in track laying and grading.

WORK IS STOPPED.

WORK IS STOPPED.

Capt. Hensley was met on his arrival by Roadmaster McClure, who immediately explained that he was ready to submit to the majesty of the law and cease operations. With McClure at the head of the line, the policemen marched over the work, placing under arrest several foremen and a few laborers until the end of the work was reached. As the officers passed along, McClure issued instructions to his men to cease work, and fitteen minutes after the arrival of the officers, the laborers had laid down their tools and were herded at the corner of Compton and Slauson avenues.

Serst. Morton and a squad of officers escorted fifteen prisoners to the Police Station, and Capt. Hensley and the remained to see that no attempt was made to continue operations. This precaution was unnecessary, as the large body of workers, by order of Roadmaster McClure, proceeded to the newly-constructed Long Beach line, near by, and were taken in special cars to the Dominguez ranch near Compton, where they have a camp.

OPENING GUN FIRED.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning a force of graders and tracklayers, 450 atrong, appeared at the corner of Compton and Slauson avenues, in the extreme southeastern corner of Los Angeles, and began the construction of a double-track, broad-gauge railway line. The work was pushed forward with the same characteristic speed that has marked the undertakings of the two companies, that are building city and interurban lines, under Mr. Huntington's management, and within a few hours more than a quarter of a mile of double track grading had been done, and the same length, standard gauge, single-track had been laid, and covered with dirt.

News of the operations was carried to the City Hall by residents of Compton avenue, who were apprehensive that the city's rights were being molested, and the machinery of the law was set in motion.

Captain of Police Hensley went at once to the scene of the operations, and sought Simpson McClure, the electric company's roadmaster, who was in charge of the track building. McClure could not be found at the time, but a foreman under McClure, said the work would progress until he received orders from his superiors to desist.

Within a short time, Capt. Hensley found McClure, who talephoned to headquarters for instructions, and then told the police official that the work would continue until it was stoped by absolute force. During this parter the OPENING GUN FIRED.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Judge La-combe, in the United States Circuit Court today denied the application made by the C. H. Werner Company made by the C. H. Werner Company and others to restrain the United States Steel Company from issuing $250,000,000 in bonds, and retiring at the same time $200,000,000 of the preferred stock of the corporation.

Vice-Chancellor Emery, sitting in Newark, N. J., today granted a rule to show cause why the proposed plan of the United States Steel Corporation to convert $300,000,000 of its preferred stock into bonds of the same amount should not be enforced. The rule is returnable tomorrow. It carries with it a temporay restraint against the consummation of the plan.

kinds of business. Take, for instance, the twelve great smelting companies—the mineral pawnbrokers. The smelting companies that do a strictly custom business show absolutely and unquestionably the largest profits of any industry in America. Last year, notwithstanding the fact that capital gave very little assistance to the mining industry, there was a steady, healthy increase of prosperity. Of the many millions produced from the mines the amount was divided so that all avenues of industry profited by it. Over 10 per cent, went to railroad corporations, 37 per cent, went to mine own-

CHICAGO, June 5.—Wheat is depressed by the fine weather more than by anything else. For several days the short interest had been much worried over the prospects of damage to winter wheat by a wet harvest. In consequence, there was considerable covering, and the buils bought recently to a fair extent. Today, all this was changed when the weather map showed clear weather prevailing generally. The Southwestern markets were weak at the start, St. Lowis being down half and selling here on the weather. The local crowd was very bearish at the start, and crowd was very bearish at the start, and soon tumbled to Tig. The man and soon tumbled to Tig. The man and soon tumbled to Tig. same Pullman and after leaving Yuma Mrs. Collins left her seat to talk with a friend. She left her purse in the seat and upon her return found it open, and $100 in $10 bills missing.

Reed, who is a barkeeper in a Bisbee saloon, was the only person near the seat during her absence, and he was accused of the theft. When searched $125 was found on his person, $100 of the money in $10 bills, which Mrs. Collins declared were folded like her money had been.

At Banning the conductor of the train turned Reed over to Constable H. L. Carpenter, who brought the prisoner to Los Angeles. At the cepot he was met by several policemen, and in securing his baggage he made an effort to escape from Patroiman C. R. Craig, who handcuffed him. He denies his guilt, but told several contradictory stories. He will be held until the Eanning officer learns whether Mrs. Collins will return to Banning to prosecute him.

Jefferson M. Shannon.

ALAMEDA, June 8.—Jefferson M. Shannon dled at an early hour this morning at his home in this city. His last illness was brief.

Shannon was a native of Missouri, and was 70 years of age. He came to California in 1850, engaged in mining for a few years, and located in Fresno in 1855. He was the first Sheriff of Fresno county, and also served two terms in the State Assembly.

Deceased leaves a widow and four children, S. A., Leland S. and Sydney J. Shannon, and Mrs. W. E. Toms.

George White.

George White.

COVELO, June 9.—George White, the cattle king of Round Valley, and one of the most unique characters in Northern California, died this morning at his home here. He was possessed of great wealth, and exercised much influence in this part of the State. He was involved in many lawsuits, chiefly over property rights, and for a time was the central figure of a vendetta which resulted in a condition of lawlessness approaching border warfare. Attempts were made to asa vendetta which resulted in a condi-tion of lawlessness approaching border warfare. Attempts were made to as-sassinate him, and the Round Valley troubles, as they became known, were not suppressed until numerous crimes, including murder, had been committed in that section.

SHOT AND STABBED IN A FAMI IN A FAMILY WAR.

FOUR MEN'S BLOOD SPILLED IN OXNARD BATTLE.

Candidates for Coroner and Penitentiary the Result of Fearful Fight With Pistols and Knives-Reign of Terror in the Tenderloin.

OXNARD, June 9.-The bloodlest heoting scrape in the history of Ox-lard and one of the worst in the an-nals of crime in this county, occurred last night at 11 o'clock. Four men were last night at 11 o'clock. Four men were severely wounded, three of them probably fatally. It was a battle with knives and pistols among Mexicans, and as a result there are candidates for the Coroner, and undertaker, and for the penitentiary. Santiago Hernández is lying at the County Hospital with a jaw shot away and a bullet sticking in his head; Edward Acosta is suffering from a wound inflicted by a 35-caliber bullet entering the back and emerging through the right breast; Manuel Mabella is the victim of a stab in the back that may prove fatal, and Joe Quintana, the man who did a large part of the shooting, is hardly recognizable on account of the battering effects of clubs and pistol butts on his face.

In all a dozen shots were fired, and a reign of terror existed in the tenderloin district, the scene of the shooting, for half an hour, while a half-dozen or more men fought each other to the death, shooting, stabbing, cursing and clinching in the dark.

An undying hatred has existed between two factions of Mexicans for some time, on account of alleged illegitimate relations between Joe Quintana and Mrs. Acosta. The husband of the latter had enlisted a number of his friends on his side, and prepared to chastise the interioper in the most summary manner. It was well known among the Mexicans that both parties were going about armed prepared for any hostilities that might occur, and by chance the fac-tions met last night face to face on tions met last night face to face on Saviers road. A shot was fired, and a perfect fusiliade followed before the men came to close enough quarters to use knives and fists.

By the time officers arrived, the four above-named men had been put out of action, and the others had fied. Hernandez, Acosta and Maballa were taken to the County Hospital at Ventura by Fred Lynn, and their condition is very serious. Little hope is entertained for the recovery of Hernandez and Acosta. Quintana, the primary cause of the entire affair, is confined in the County Jall.

Recently Hernandez secured a divorce from his wife, Quintano's mother. The two were quarreling and Acosta and Favela attempted to interfere.

CLEAN ORPHANS.

Water Board Learns That Inmates of Orphans' Home are Either Cleanly or They Drink Deeply.

The fact that each of the inmates of the Los Angeles Orphans' Home at Al-pine and Yale streets uses eighty-three gallons of water per day, was about the only startling thing that developed at yesterday's meeting of the City Water Commissioners. Whether they indulge in the luxury of three baths a day or are hard drinkers, was not brought out, but the commissioners were very much surprised just the

The subject came up on the com-plaint of C. B. Woodhead, who is con-nected with the institution. He appeared before the commissioners to ask them reduce his water bill, or i of the home. He was apparently much pained on account of a bill for $13.55 for water used by the home during May, and to back up his request that the city should furnish it free water, he said that the old Los Angeles Water Company had charged the home but $2.50 per month. The bill complained of was rendered on the reading of the meter put in since the city came into its own; and from it the commissioners figured out that the inmates use an average of eighty-three gallons of water each per day. As the home is allowed a reduction of 75 per cent, on its water bills, the commissioners thought it was using too much water, and Mr. Woodhead was instructed to stop the waste in water closets and other places.

Acting Auditor Anderson submitted his weekly report, which showed that the past week $13.682.42 had been collected for water. The condition of the water funds was also reported as follows: plained of was rendered on the read-

THE CRUSADE AGAINST CRIBS AND SUCH.

VIEWS OF CHIEF ELTON ON TROU-BLESOME PROBLEM,

He Believes in Keeping All the Scarlet Women and Their Dens in One Quarter and Adopting the Japanese Method of Regulation.

The crusade lately inaugurated by the W.C.T.U. and Ministers' Association against the demoralizing tendencies of the "crib" district, and the alleged spread of the social evil in Los Angeles has led to the query: "Is the maintenance of a crib district wrong, and is the evil increasing throughout the city?"

Chief of Police Elton, who has given much study to the problem, and who much study to the problem, and who probably is the best-informed man in Los Angeles on the practical aspects of the question, said to a Times repo probably is the best-informed man in Los Angeles on the practical aspects of the question, said to a Times reporter yesterday that the concentration of scarlet women in "cribs", is the best way of handling the troublesome problem, and that the sooner they are all herded in one quarter, just that much sooner will there be an improvement in the situation. Chief Eliton does not believe that there has been any increase of the evil in the city.

"In their attempt to restrict or abolish the practice of 'the oldest profession in the world,' " said the Chief, "the reformers are trying to do something that never has been accomplished and in my opinion never will be accomplished.

"The evil should, and can be, controlled, and I am striving now to handle it in the best possible manner. To attack it in one spot, however, only to drive it to another, is of no avail, unless the purpose is to concentrate it in a quarter by itself. It must not be permitted to spread over the entire city, as is the case in many parts of the East, and even in San Francisco, and right at this time in Los Angeles we are endeavoring to draw a line beyond which the practice cannot be carried on. This can be done, as the progress we are making proves, but the operation is necessarily slow. Within a reasonable time we hope to herd all the scarlet women in a quarter of the city where their presence is not objectionable.

"I think the history of the Los Angeles 'crib' district proves that centralization is the best method so far devised for handling the business, for it really is a business by which many women gain a livelihood. In that district, with all its evil, there probably is as little crime committed as in any section of similar size in the city. So far as disorder is concerned, it is far more orderly than some of the other downtown districts. Only one police officer is on duty in the quarter, and very few arrests are made. The patrol wagon makes forty trips to the corner of First and Los Angeles street, against one to the Alameda-street distric

"There is no use in being prudish in "There is no use in being prudish in discussing the question, and endeavoring to do what is best for the moral health of the community. My position is plain in the matter, and I stand solidly on the ground that legalization is the best method, so far as I can see, of restricting the evil. With proper medical and police surveillance, many of the evils that now exist can be corrected.

"In the Los Angeles 'crib' district we have the business about as well regulated as is possible. Police orders are respected by the women, and it is understood that if a robbery or any other crime is committed in a woman's room, that woman will pay the penalty by being driven from the city. This was true with Mrs. Frances Raymond, whose connection with the Widney case showed her to be in league with crimnals, and within two weeks the business at her Seventh-street house was made so unprofitable that she was made so unprofitable that she was forced to seek a city where her record was unknown.

"As soon as we can concentrate the women in one quarter, where the police can watch them closely, we shall have made a long advance toward correction, at least, of the evil."

BEGINS THE PARK.

At yesterday's meeting of the city commissioners it was decided to immediately begin certain improvements in Library Park. The hiring of laborers and buying of tools was provided for, the present outlay to be not greater than $1000. The commissioners propose to make certain small improvements previous to the grand work of building a first-class public playground. There are a number of trees which should come out, lots of trees and shrubs that need trimming, and many opportunities for slicking the place up. Benches will be placed so that citizens may go there and dream of the future park, and BEGINS THE PARK. INVESTIGATES DEATH OF PETTY THEFTS NUMEROUS. A number of petty thefts have been made of late, and the officers think made of late, and the officers think they have traced them to a gang of small boys, running about town. Five of them were taken in a bunch Sunday night and a short session in the sweat box brought out some interesting developments. As a result, one of them is being held for taking $5.50 from the home of Miss Ball, at No. 954 Pacific avenue, last Saturday, and another for taking a small amount from the till of the Long Beach Bakery. The boys are too small to be really responsible, and it is hoped that a little severity at the time may deter them from a repetition of the offense. A dozen bottles of beer were stolen from a house on American avenue, near Second street, Saturday night.
